Your current domain portfolio

This is the list of the domains ordered by you or managed by you (see also roles and permissions). If you don't see any of your domains here, the possible reasons are:

- you have ordered the domain just recently - it may take some minutes before it shows up
 - there was an issue with the payment for the domain - please check your email to if there are any messages from Joker.com
 - the domain has already expired - please check the WHOIS, if the domain is still registered, and do a "simple renewal" or contact our support
 - you did not order this domain yourself, and you have not been assigned the appropriate permissions \('grants'\) to list or modify this domain. In this case, you may contact the owner of the domain to ask for such assignments.
